Economize on Your Rug

Don't buy a new cheap one every year or two—buy one good one, one beautiful one that will last a great many years, a rug that will give you satisfaction every minute that it is in your house.

Whittall Rugs

are the highest grade rugs made in America—but they are as low in price as any of similar quality, and durability and satisfaction considered, they are the most economical to buy.

They are singularly beautiful adaptations of fine oriental antiques and lose nothing in comparison with the originals.

Whittall Rugs Combine Richness of Beauty and Goodness.

The scenic success of William Hodge's new play success, "The Road to Happiness," which is to be seen here at the opera house on Monday, May 3, is decidedly elaborate. Each of the four acts is entirely different and all are picturesque. Two big 60-foot cars are required to carry the scenery alone. In the play also there are many delightful character types besides the central and dominating one of the unique Hodge as young Jim Whitman.—Adv.

A Massachusetts reader of The Times, whose sporting column, "Along the Sport Trail," in this paper used to be decorated with avidity by a good many local baseball, track and football fans, contributes a list of the former Barre boys who are identified with amateur baseball teams in and around Boston this spring. Bernard Lee, a former Goddard and Barre Athletic club member, is captain of the Tufts team this year. William McLeary of Graniteville, who used to do the bookkeeping for one of the best diamond teams that Goddard ever had, is catching for Westworth institute. James S. Milne and Grover Buck, the latter of Montpelier, are playing infield positions on the Massachusetts Bowling Co's team this spring, and William Robertson, one of the heavy hitters in the old Barre Sunset league, is playing with a team which represents the United Cigar stores in greater Boston. R. T. Dwyer, formerly of Goddard, is playing with Tufts dental college freshmen and John E. Miles is captain of the General Electric Co's team at West. Lynn. It may be added that R. J. Gray, a former Spaulding boy, is playing with Dwyer on the Providence dental team.

Senior students at Spaulding high school will present their annual class play in the school chapel this evening at 8 o'clock. A final rehearsal, with all of the costuming and scenic investiture used as it will be used this evening, was held this afternoon. "The Varsity Coach" is a lively, four-act playlet which is highly commended by those who have been privileged to see it presented in rehearsals. There are 14 members of the cast and each of the amateur players has been selected for his or her part on the basis of capability. The advance sale of seats has been gratifyingly large. Proceeds from the presentation will be used to defray commencement expenses.

St. Aldemar commandery, No. 11, K. T., held its annual business meeting and election of officers in the Masonic asylum last evening, when a large number of knights came together to hear the officers report on one of the most successful years in the history of the commandery and to assist in naming the officers who are to serve in 1915-1916. After the business meeting there was a social hour and a substantial luncheon was served. Below is given a list of the officers: Eminent commander, Frank J. Martin; generalissimo, Frank L. Small; captain general, Waldron Shield; senior warden, Clinton F. Miller; junior warden, Arthur J. Young; prelate, Noble S. Love; treasurer, Edward W. Bishop; recorder, Walter P. Scott; standard-bearer, Nathaniel Bond; sword-bearer, Wilbur D. Mower; warder, Dr. F. M. Lynde. It is expected that appointive officers will be named within a short time and arrangements are to be made at once for the installation exercises.

The real and direct challenge of "clean-up week," to put it directly, is simply as follows, according to one who has the interests of Monday's campaign deeply at heart:

"Why don't they keep the streets a little cleaner?"

You ask with deep annoyance not undue.

"Why don't they keep the parks a little greener?"

Did you ever stop to think that THEY means YOU?"

In the courtroom at city hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock the wind-up meeting in connection with the approaching campaign will be held. Every member of the sundry committees, as well as anyone who is interested in the movement that is to be launched Monday morning, is urged to be present and to bring along a suggestion for the work.

William Wright, who recently purchased a luncheon between the Worthen block and the Wheelock building, will reopen the place for business to-morrow, after having given the interior a thorough renovation. Mr. Wright will make a specialty of quick service.

A good crowd attended the auction sale at John Riddell's on the west hill in Williamstown yesterday afternoon: 35 head of cows, two-year-olds, yearlings and calves were sold to the owner and buyers; 25 to 30 tons of hay were sold for $1.10 per ton in the barn. C. F. Smith, auctioneer.

Barbers of union local, No. 173, met last evening and initiated one candidate into the brotherhood. Informal plans for a barbers' picnic to be held some time during the coming summer were discussed. For the past three years the fraternal barbers have omitted their annual jubilation, but an unusual degree of interest in the proposed outing was manifested last night and a committee has been instructed to ascertain whether a picnic sometime in early June will be feasible.

Carpenters who are engaged in restoring the plank platform at the Montpelier & Wells River passenger station have picked on a nice bit of spare change in the past few days, or even since the work of rimping up the old plank was started. How many men and women and little children, too, have had the unpleasant experience of having a stray dime, a nickel or a quarter, perhaps, roll along the platform until it dropped through a convenient crack into the line of feet things, no one knows; but the carpenters, without wasting much time in digging for silver, are agreed that those little mishaps have occurred pretty often in the past.

Howard B. Arbutnot, a South Barre carpenter, is slowly recovering from injuries which he sustained in an accident on North Main street earlier in the week when an automobile collided with a light wagon in which he was riding. According to Mr. Arbutnot's version of the affair, the automobile struck one of the forward wheels of his wagon before he had time to pull his horse out of the way. Mr. Arbutnot was thrown bodily over the dashboard to the pavement. Though in the street rushed to his aid, and Dr. N. B. Larch, who was summoned after the man had been removed to his home, treated him for a severe ankle sprain, bruise about the face and a strained back. The carpenter thinks it will be some little time before he is able to resume work.
